AARP Road to Livability

AARP has traveled on the “Road to Livability” for many years providing families with resources and tools to create a place where you can live in comfort and safety no matter what stage of life. AARP is helping families go deeper by looking at choices for changing needs. AARP is introducing a new resource for you to share with others in your community that takes a look at “what you have” vs. “what you will need” when it comes to your HOME, CAR or COMMUNITY.

Join us for an in-depth discussion of how you can travel on “The Road to Livability” in a way that makes sense for you and your lifestyle. Plainfield Senior Center is hosting this workshop.
